RAR file: http:.Q: Finite Monodromy Morphism I want to find a simply connected surface S such that the fundamental group $H_1(S; \mathbb{Z})$ has 3 generators a, b, c and 2 relators $[a, b], [a, c], [b, c]$. Following Tietze theorem, I found out that S will be the complement of the disc D with centre 0 in \mathbb{C} . $H_1(S; \mathbb{Z})$ is generated by $[a, b], [a, c]$ and $[b, c]$, so it is isomorphic to \mathbb{Z}^3 . $0 \rightarrow \mathbb{Z}^3 \rightarrow H_1(S; \mathbb{Z}) \rightarrow H_1(D; \mathbb{Z}) \rightarrow 0$ My problem is that I don't find any simply connected surface S in \mathbb{C} such that $H_1(S; \mathbb{Z})$ is free. What is the problem? A: The surface is orientable, the fundamental group is infinite, has no torsion and is not a free group. Q: If a poster advertises a character's voice as coming from the character's actual voice actor, and a company does not pay the voice actor, is it necessary that the actor share the money they are owed? At one point, I was invited to voice a character in a commercial for a company that was targeting a specific demographic. I had worked as an actor for other projects, but in this case, my character was supposed to be a character from a previous project that the company wanted to tout. The character had a distinctive voice. I was given the script
