"select" boxes. I have a multiselect field in which I populate the values from a database. When the form is submitted, the form is processed through a PHP script that is responsible for doing a select query (i.e. select something from the database based on the input from the user).

This is all working ok. What I can't figure out is how to export the values that the user selected to a MySQL DB to be stored. Does anyone have any advice? Thanks A: Select multiple via Javascript: California Colorado Florida Then in your PHP script, do this: if (isset($_POST['submit'])) { if (isset($_POST['country'])) { $country = $_POST['country']; // 0cc13bf012
